Dear Madam

It's my pleasure to inform you that Department of Distance and Continuing Education, Campus of Open Learning, School of Open Learning, University of Delhi has started BLIS (Bachelor's in library and information Sciences) and MLIS (Master's in library and information Science) courses from this academic year. We have received an overwhelming response and enrolled more than 500 students in the courses.

For the same, we are in the process of engaging college librarian (University of Delhi affiliated) as guest faculty and supervisor for the BLIS and MLIS students. It is also mandatory for the BLIS and MLIS students to do the internship for a month in a library for practical training, it will be of great help if you allow your college librarian to be enrolled as a guest faculty and also allow students for the internship in your college library.

The link for the guest faculty is enclosed along with this mail.

Thanking you with kind regards
